Meet on GST

Dr. Hasmukh Adhia, Revenue Secretary, flanked by Ritvik Pandey (left), Commissioner of Commercial Taxes and S. Rajkumar, Chief Commissioner, Central Excise and Service Tax, Mysore Zone, during an interaction at Rani Bahadur auditorium in Manasagangothri here this morning.

Mysuru, May 29 (RK&NNN)- Goods and Services Tax (GST) that will be applicable in the country from July 1, will expose the tax evader and benefit the ethical dealer with the help of the software that is being introduced to detect every transaction directly or indirectly, said Revenue Secretary, Government of India, Dr. Hasmukh Adhia.

Speaking at a meeting organised by the Chief Commissioner of Central Excise, Customs and Service Tax, Mysore Zone and Commissioner of Commercial Taxes Department, Karnataka, at Rani Bahadur Institute of Management Sciences here this morning, he said a tax evader or defaulter cannot escape once the GST is introduced.

"The software is very robust and no one can tamper, hack or change it. It is the duty of every manufacturer, dealer and businessman not to support unethical dealer. If he cheats, the software will detect him and there is no escape route," said Dr. Adhia.

Earlier there were 37 types of taxes. There were also differences in taxes from State to State. Hence, if the tax on a particular commodity was less in one State and more on the other, the business would move automatically to the State where it was less. Such discrepancies have been done away with as GST means uniform tax rates across the country, he said.

"If people have problems understanding GST, the Centre has set up a Twitter handle GST@GOI where they can address the issues. Besides, there will be full support from the Government, as officers will be stationed at the centres to reply to queries and doubts," said Dr. Adhia and called upon the people to support it as it would benefit the people and the nation.

K'taka woman travels all the way to Delhi to meet K'taka CM

New Delhi, May 29 (MMJ)- If you want something badly, you have to pursue it. That is what Muniyamma, a resident of a village in Gudibande Taluk of Chikkaballapur District, Karnataka, did as she travelled all the way by train to New Delhi to meet Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to find a solution to her land problem. Muniyamma wanted an alternative land as the land sanctioned to her was in dispute. She ran from pillar to post to get her problem solved but could not. She then decided to meet the CM himself to solve her problem. But her attempts to meet the CM in Bengaluru went in vain as he was too busy to grant an audience.

Participatory prosperity

The top brass in the government, in the august company of the flock of public-spirited speakers from various platforms across the land have been extolling the goal of transforming the nation into a land of vibrant citizens with a sense of urgency and commitment. These two factors don't seem to have exhorted a major section in the country's population to a perceptible level, given their current pastime as it were staging protests, observing bandhs, holding disruptive road shows, indulging in violent acts causing loss of lives and assets of both government and private parties, instigating gullible people by issuing provocative statements centred on caste and faiths of different sections in society and so on at the drop of a hat. The ongoing clash between constructive sections pursuing agriculture as well as manufacturing both capital goods and consumer needs on one side and the destructive elements guided by mindless leaders in society adequately describes the country's present profile.

Without getting lost in a debate on the issue of choosing between optimism and pessimism about the direction in which the country is moving on the count of socio-economic stability, it pays to take stock of the current happenings which are hurting the hopes of people at large that all will be well again in days ahead. The country's sustained prosperity, unarguably, depends on the extent to which the people participate in the task.

Taking stock of the happenings in the country rolls out into spelling out a) goal-setting, b) means of achieving the targets in a time-frame, c) hurdles to be reckoned with and overcome d) policies and measures to implement the related programmes and e) marshalling the human resources playing dual roles of contributing their inputs and getting rewarded as beneficiaries. There is no denying the fact that successive governments have to be credited with sustaining the nation without disintegrating thus far, in spite of the unhelpful attitudes and actions by well-marked sections of society pursuing their chosen blinkered ways for short-term gains.

The foregoing backdrop, along with the ongoing large scale lay offs in the land leads one to the most important point of addressing issues of unemployment bugging the masses with rising intensity. In this context, the advisory spelt out by a Harvard don currently visiting India to enable the nation's people to take to grassroots entrepreneurship as an answer by creating more jobs has its merits. Revival of traditional skills offer scope to realise prosperity of the nation with its masses participating pro-actively, instead of wholly depending on the government.

HAVE A 'HYBRID' MINDSET: Striking a fine balance between environmental sustainability and growth can be like following the rules of cricket, said former cricketer Anil Kumble. Just as constant practice helps a cricketer be ready to face surprises in a big match, Kumble said, a "hybrid mindset" to harmonise environmental protection and profit is the formula students must imbibe since they are the future leaders. The retired cricketer said policy-makers must ensure that Corporations, while chasing growth, do not take their eyes off the goal to reduce environmental hazards. Kumble was speaking at an event in Bengaluru on "understanding hybrid as a mindset" last week. — In Business Standard.

Microchips implant for easier life !

Stockholm: Epicenter, a technology startup hub in Stockholm, Sweden, has been offering employees the chance to have a small microchip implanted in their hand, ever since 2015. So far, 150 of its 3,000-strong staff have taken bosses up on their offer, and they couldn't be happier with their decision. Implantable microchips the size of a grain of rice have been around for a while now, A couple of years ago, when Epicenter started offering its employees the chance to have them implanted into their hands, having a chip inserted into their body sounds like something out of a dystopian future, but employees who have had them implanted say that the technology just makes their life easier. These implants are simply designed to help employees get around the workplace easier. No more keeping an access card to open doors. With the chip, all they have to do is wave their hand in front of the scanner and magic happens. "The biggest benefit I think is convenience," Epicenter co-founder and CEO, Patrick Mesterton, told Press.

He builds mountain roads for his village

Guizhou Province: 76-year-old Zhang Jiwen is almost completely deaf, but he has two able hands and a strong desire to help those less fortunate. Ever since 2012, he has been carrying building materials up a mountain in Fuling Forest Park, near the city of Chongqing, and building safe walking paths leading up from the modern road at the base all the way to an isolated village near the top.

He paid for building materials out of his own pockets, and also relied on sand from the nearby river bed, bricks from demolished houses in the vicinity and slabs of stone, and after five years of hard labour, he managed to complete a safe mountain path several hundred meters long that spans from the base of the mountain all the way to the village. Now that the road has been completed and villagers can safely walk all the way to the bottom of the mountain without fear of injury, Zhang Jiwen has started work on a second paved road that leads to a water spring.

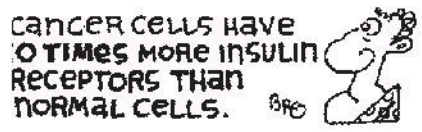
Is there an alternative to chemotherapy?



Yes, there is. Insulin potentiation therapy, also known as low-dose chemotherapy, produces minimal side effects. Insulin is administered to open up cancer cell receptors. Then, with receptors wide open, the cancer cell gets a shot of chemo instead of glucose (sugar). The dose of chemo is 10% of the normal dose.

VOICE OF THE READER

Caution needed at road junctions

Sir,

According to the Rules of Road Regulations, Section 118 of the Motor Vehicle Act, 1988 (59 of 1988), all the drivers of motor vehicles shall slow down when they approach a road junction, pedestrian crossing or a road corner and shall not enter any such intersection, junction or crossing until they become aware that they may not endanger the safety of the pedestrians or other motorists.

This should be followed whether electronic signals are present or not at the pedestrian crossing or junction.

Waiting on the wrong side may result in honking by the vehicles waiting behind, if green signal comes first for them. Trying to move fast on yellow signal may lead to signal jumping, as the drivers mainly are focusing the vehicles moving ahead rather than following the signal ahead. On yellow signal vehicles are not supposed to cross the zebra lines.

However, those vehicles which have already crossed the stop line by the time yellow signal flashes can proceed further. It is regularly being observed that many are jumping the red signal and going ahead at the city centre obstructing the movement of pedestrians, which may invite risk to both pedestrians and the riders.

Bring in road discipline by booking traffic violators

Sir,

Mysuru city traffic is in a real mess. Riding two-wheelers with 3 or 4 persons, rash driving, speeding on the wrong side, jumping the signal, riding side by side talking loudly inconveniencing other road users and so on have become a common sight.

What is shocking is overtaking from left side on cross roads. One-way traffic is a misnomer as two-wheeler riders and autos dare even the Police to catch them.

Traffic violations are aplenty right in front of Police Stations. Why is the Police not assertive and book the offenders ?

As a student, my observation is that in Mysuru, Policing means only collecting penalty from helmetless riders and drivers of four-wheelers for not wearing seat belts! Traffic violations not only affect the violators but also seriously affect those road users who religiously follow traffic rules.

My appeal to the Commissioner of Police: Please bring in road discipline and book those who violate traffic rules. Shortage of Police personnel should not be an excuse, please go by what CCTV reveals. Don't show mercy to the offenders.

Clear garbage from footpaths

Sir,

I daily travel along Kalamandira Road. I have observed that a lot of garbage in bags or used plates, cups, worn-out bed etc., are being dumped on both the footpaths. In spite of repeated requests, the area Corporator has not take any action.

I once again request the MCC Commissioner to get both the footpaths cleaned and also punish those who dump waste materials on these footpaths.

The sorry state of footpaths near Mysore Palace

Mysuru, May 29 (DVG&KS)- With garbage being piled up, blocked drains, rain water getting stagnant on roads as most of the storm water drains are clogged, Mysuru city, which is known as the 'Heritage City' is slowly turning into a 'Dirty City.'

If one takes the footpath from the Varaha Gate of Mysore Palace towards Dasara Exhibition Ground, one has to walk very carefully without being distracted as most of the slabs and tiles placed on drains are broken at some places, while the stone slabs which was placed evenly has been displaced causing inconvenience to the public, pedestrians and scores of tourists who come to visit Mysore Palace.

One of the tourists, who spoke, said that though the Palace premises is kept neat and tidy, it is just the opposite outside, which really pained us. The tourist said that the authorities should take initiatives and maintain the surroundings of the Palace as lakhs of tourists visit Mysore Palace, one of the world's famous monument.

Five-year-old killed by stepfather

Zameer Pasha

Mandya, May 29 (NG&KS)- A five-year-old boy was killed after his stepfather allegedly slapped near his temple region to make him stop crying.

The deceased boy has been identified as Zameer Pasha, while the stepfather has been identified as Imran Khan, residing near a Samudaya Bhavan in K.R. Pet.

It is reported that Imran Khan, who fell in love with Shama Begum, a married woman from Chennarayapatna, brought her along with her two sons to his house about three months ago.

In the meantime, Shama's husband Javeed had lodged a missing complaint with Chennarayapatna Police.

Investigating the missing complaint, the Police traced Shama with Imran in K.R. Pet. But Shama, who refused to go with her husband Javeed, had said that she would stay with Imran, following which, her eldest son Sadiq Pasha was handed over to Javeed, while Zameer Pasha stayed with his mother.

On May 23 night, Zameer began to cry continuously and Imran, in a bid to stop the child from crying, gave a tight slap to the cheek of Zameer, resulting in the kid's death.

The following day, Imran called up Javeed over the phone and informed him that his child had died and asked him to take the dead body. Javeed, who came to K.R. Pet, took the body of Zameer, observed marks on the cheek and got the post-mortem done, which revealed that the boy was murdered.

Javeed, on May 24, lodged a murder complaint against Shama Begum and Imran at K.R. Pet Police Station.

K.R. Pet Police, based on the complaint, arrested Imran. A team headed by Circle Inspector Venkateshaiah has been formed to nab Shama Begum, who is absconding.

Youth murdered: Accused arrested within hours

Mysuru, May 29 (SBD&KS)- Vijayanagar Police have cracked the murder of one Jayaramu, who was murdered on Saturday night, by arresting three persons within hours of the crime.

The arrested persons have been identified as 27-year-old Anil of Hootagalli, 25-year-old Mahesh of Koorgalli and 20-year-old Satish of Vidyaranyapuram.

The three accused had murdered Jayaramu, who was working in a Service Station in Vijayanagar 4th Stage and had fled.

Victim Jayaramu and prime accused Anil were friends and were working in the same Service Station. It is learnt that Jayaramu, who had given a loan of Rs. 20,000 to Anil, was pestering him to return the money.

In the meantime, Rs. 17,000 belonging to the cashier of the Service Station was stolen and Jayaramu began to tell others that Anil had stolen the money, which irked him (Anil). He then hatched a plan to eliminate Jayaramu.

On Saturday evening, when Jayaramu was standing near a shop in Vijayanagar 4th Stage, Anil, who came along with his friend Satish on a scooter, spoke to Jayaramu and told him that they would drop him to his place, following which, he went with them.

When they reached a deserted place on the way to Belavadi, Anil stopped the scooter in the pretext of attending nature's call, where they were joined by Mahesh, another friend of Anil. Later, the three accused allegedly stabbed Jayaramu to death and fled from the scene.

The Police, who picked up two accused from Vidyaranyapuram and Saraswathipuram yesterday morning, produced them before a Magistrate who remanded them to judicial custody.

Owner prevents tenants from keeping dead body in front of house

Mysuru, May 29 (MTY&KS)- An inhuman act by the owner of a house preventing a tenant from keeping the dead body of his son in front of the house for the relatives to pay their last respects has been reported from Muneshwara Nagar in Kanakagiri here on Saturday.

It is reported that one Veerabhadrappa had taken a house belonging to one Dakshayini on lease and were residing in the house since a year.

On May 27 night, Veerabhadrappa's son Mahesh (40) died due to illness and Dakshayini prevented the family members from keeping the dead body in front of the house and told them to take the body elsewhere, which led to a wordy duel between Dakshayini and the family members of the deceased. However, Dakshayini insisted on shifting the body elsewhere.

When their repeated pleas failed to convince the house owner, Veerabhadrappa then placed the body of his son on the road and erected a shamiyana. Soon, rains began to pour which added to their misery. The family members had to hold umbrellas the whole night to prevent the body from getting drenched. After the last rites yesterday morning, some neighbours took Dakshayini to task for her inhuman act.

Neutralising conflicts

Home is said to be a place where you can relax, rejuvenate and plan your aspirations with your loved ones in good harmony. However, in the present times with each of the family member occupied with their own ideology and thoughts, this would be a state of utopia. Such discords often lead to family conflicts, arguments and misunderstandings and even trivial issues could trigger of a major trouble.

If such a situation exists in a home, it is time to check the Feng Shui of the home to plug the energies causing this kind of conflict. The energies when corrected does show up instantly to give you positive benefits but it slowly transforms the home into a place of peace and happiness. The strong negative energies will eventually get dissolved and the Feng Shui corrections will smoothen all aspects of the home more specific to relationships and conflicts.

• Exterior Afflictions: Check your exteriors and immediate environment, is there anything hostile focusing towards your home or main door like a tree, electrical pylon etc. Having good Feng Shui energy outside your house is important for many reasons hence be watchful of your surroundings.

• Alignment of Doors or Windows: Ensure that the main door is not in straight line with a window at the far end as the energy coming in through main door does not exit through the window instantly. Even if you have two or more doors in direct alignment, especially if it is the front door and back door it would need a proper balancing of the energy flow which could be through appropriate wind chimes suspended in the path.

• Southwest of your home and bedroom: Examine this area and check if there is clutter, toilet or art pieces which do not depict pleasantness or harmony. Take away such art and if there is a toilet at SW of the house try to minimise the use of this toilet alone although relocating such a toilet would be highly beneficial.

Staircase in line with main door or at the centre of the home causes unsettling energy and disturbs the house. Even bad if the stairs are at the centre sector of the entire home. Suspending crystals or chimes could uplift and balance the energies.

• Staircase: Staircase in line with main door or at the centre of the home causes unsettling energy and disturbs the house. Even bad if the stairs are at the centre sector of the entire home. Suspending crystals or chimes could uplift and balance the energies.

• Basements and attics: The attic and basement are areas seldom active and used occasionally. Hence, these sectors accumulate Yin (negative) energies. Would be better to clear out these areas and feel what a huge difference this makes in the state of your home, as well as your own inner state of mind. Light up such sectors and keep lights turned on for long hours, keep them fresh with aroma.

• Predecessor Chi: It is the energy of the past occupant. If the house has a bad history of occupants having conflicts and disharmony, you need to clear the energy. You can do it once a year or once a week, but you have to do it regularly to achieve best results. Aroma, smoke, sound are some of the best remedies to clear the bad Chi.

Heavy loss as rain breaches tank in Gundlupet

Traffic disrupted, crops destroyed, people's ire against officials

Gundlupet, May 29 (Somji& NNN)- The Vijayapura Doddakere tank bund in the taluk breached following heavy rains and the water gushed out, resulting in crops being destroyed.

The Vijayapura tank was filled to the brim with heavy rain. Suddenly, the tank bund cracked open and water poured out into the low-lying areas. As a result, hundreds of acres of standing crops and mud was washed out.

The people of the area, learning that the tank was full, visited the place early in the morning on May 26. They found that there was leakage and water seeping. Gradually, the leaking increased through the porous parts. They immediately brought it to the notice of the Taluk and Minor Irrigation Department officials.

However, the Department officials have neglected the matter. Upset with the callous attitude of the officials, the public staged a rasta roko near Annurukeri. By evening, the officials have got the stones and mud to fill up the tank bund. But the efforts failed and by night the gaps in the tank increased and finally it breached.

The water started flowing on the road and filled potholes and reached the Gundlu river and finally joined the Amani tank reservoir that was filled to the half. The water entered the nearby farms and houses and disturbed the animals. People ran helter skelter. Traffic was also disrupted on the Annurukeri road. Jowar, sunflower and other crops that were planted recently was destroyed resulting in loss of lakhs of rupees.

A farmer Akram Khan, who had stored turmeric and coconuts in his farm, had to suffer a loss of Rs. 5 lakh. The heavy rains swept away the mud and everywhere the roads looked washed-out.

The people gathered in large numbers early in the morning to see the spectacle of the gushing waters from the tank bund. The Police had to deploy additional forces to control the crowd.

The Minor Irrigation Department officials arrived at the spot around 10.30 am and once again had to face the ire of the people. Later, they got the tipper lorries filled with stones and sand and started the repair work.

"The government has to make all efforts to fill the tanks and strengthen all the tank bunds. The contractors must be held responsible for the tank breaches. The government should compensate for the loss of crop and mud to the farmers." — Kadabur Manjunath, Raitha Sangha leader

"Though we tried to stop the breach by packing the tank with sand bags and stones, we were not successful. Once the water empties, we will take steps to strengthen the bund and store rainwater." — Basavaraju, Asst. Executive Engineer, Minor Irrigation Department

Two-day car photo expo explores the journey of automobile

Mysuru, May 29 (SP&NN-N)-Car Car Car elnodi Car... is a popular catchy song from the movie Nanna Preetiya Hudugi. However, the inspiration for collection of photographs of cars did not come from this song, but it came when he visited the Vintage Car Museum at Dharmasthala and saw the car collection of Dharmadhikari Dr. Veerendra Heggade 17 years ago.

The 65-year-old R. Muni Rao Mane, a retired Senior Assistant, KSRTC, explores the journey of the automobile through his collection of more than 1,500 photographs of cars of all makes. The information that the first car Do-Doin landed in India at Mangaluru is also there. The other photos that catch the attention of visitors are cars used by the Maharajas like Sunbeam, Rolls Royce—Phantom 3, Mercedes, Pink Panther, Hindustan Contessa Model, Hindustan Landmaster to the modern cars Ford Chevrolet, Hyundai from Korea, Volkswagon and Benz.

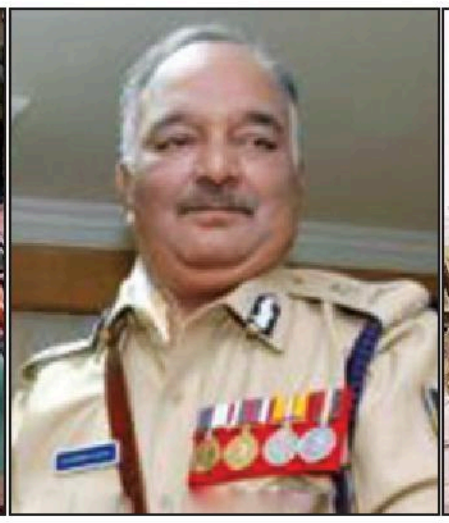
Play 'dirty' tricks to defeat Kashmiri militants' dirty war

General Bipin Rawat

Major Leetul Gogoi



Ex-DGP K.R. Srinivasan

A stone-pelter tied to an Israeli army jeep.

'What maternity is to woman, war is to man.' This was the belief of the German Dictator Adolf Hitler and as history records he executed his belief ruthlessly. The World War II was the proof of it. When India got independence in 1947, Pakistan too believed that the remedy for, what Pakistan perceived as 'unjust partition,' was only war. Not discussion or negotiation. That was why it launched an attack on Kashmir which by then had acceded to India as per the Accession Plan of the British. Small wonder, while Pakistan believed in war against India to grab Kashmir, India on its part foolishly believed in taking the matter to United Nations for justice. Instead of getting justice by asking the aggressor Pakistan to vacate the lands it had already occupied, the UN asked both parties for ceasefire. From here, India's agony of endemic bloody hostility began, never to end even after 70 years.

Pakistan, which soon came under dictatorship, decided to wage a war in 1965 when General Ayub Khan was the dictator. Since then the major game played between Pakistan and India was not cricket but war — major and minor. India seems to forget that in all these wars, including 1971 Bangladesh War, India was victorious. Thereafter Kargil war took place and there was no threat of Pakistan using its nuclear weapons. India won the Kargil war. Pakistan did not learn any lesson, probably because it thought after the dismantling of Soviet Union, India is without any friends in the world organisation, UN, while it has the support of US and China. So it decided to bleed India with a thousand cuts, as its rulers often bragged, with cross-border terrorism and by encouraging militancy using stone-pelting youngsters as mercenaries.

The present scenario in Kashmir forces us to recall the past violent confrontations with Pakistan, especially after what our Army Chief General Bipin Rawat had said in answer to all those critics of the Indian army. While the militants and the separatists, especially youngsters pelting stones at the security forces, are supporting the terrorists sent across the border by Pakistan in its proxy war, Indian army is finding it difficult to deal with the stone-pelters.

It is unfortunate, there are some Indian politicians and NGOs who have taken objection to Major Leetul Gogoi who picked up the leader of a stone-pelting group of Kashmiri youth, tied him up in front of the Army Jeep as human shield so that he could get free passage through the stone-pelters to go to a place where the stone-pelters and others had surrounded the Government Officers on duty.

While some of our own people criticise this Officer Maj. Gogoi, fortunately Army Chief General Bipin Rawat defended his action as an innovative action in the face of hostility as otherwise Army would have had to use force by way of firing which could have led to causalities. This is what the Army General Bipin Rawat said after honouring Maj. Gogoi for his timely innovative idea to overcome a difficult situation.

"This is a proxy war and proxy war is a dirty war. It is played in a dirty way. The rules of engagement are there when the adversary comes face-to-face and fights with you. But now it is a dirty war... that is where innovation comes in. You fight a dirty war with innovations."

This reminds me of Chatrapathi Shivaji's guerrilla war with Mughal Emperor Aurangzeb which too was an innovative idea for those days. Significantly, General Bipin Rawat, while defending the use of the stone-pelting Kashmiri youth as a human shield, also said that the main objective of awarding Maj. Gogoi when a Court of enquiry was finalising its probe into the incident, was to boost the morale of young officers of the Armed Forces who are operating in a very difficult environment in the militancy infested State.

It may be recalled that Gogoi was rewarded with Army Chief's Commendation Medal for his sustained efforts in countering insurgency operations. The Major had tied the leader of the stone-pelting group, probably because the stone-pelters could identify him as their own man and would not attack the jeep.

It may also be recalled that this method of giving support to the militants and also the terrorists through stone-pelting, was a common sight in Israel where Palestinian youngsters, including children, are seen indulging in this kind of attack regularly. I understand that Israel Armed Forces caught in such stone-pelting situations, not wanting to shoot and kill the stone-pelters, resorted to this kind of innovation of tying up a couple of stone-pelters to the front of the army jeep and using them as human shield. Might be Maj. Gogoi, being an Army Officer having studied the methods adopted in such tricky situations, followed the same method in the given situation.

Be that as it may, I am reminded of, though not a similar situation nor the method, but all the same a really innovative idea to defuse a sticky situation that arose on Irwin Road near the mosque in our own city some decades back. It was a Hindu religious procession with musical band playing in front of a decorated bullock cart carrying the deity proceeding on Irwin Road to its destination elsewhere. As was common in most parts of India, the Police would ask the organisers of the procession not to play music while passing by the mosque. At that time, late K.R. Srinivasan was the Superintendent of Police (there was no Commissionerate for Mysore as is now). The senior Police Officer, who was accompanying the procession, asked the music players to stop playing the music and proceed quietly till they passed the mosque. However, the organisers refused to obey and wanted to pass by the mosque playing the music. Immediately, the Police stopped the procession a little away from the mosque anticipating trouble between two communities. However, the processionists started arguing with the Police creating ruckus. The SP was informed of the situation and he came immediately to the spot. He asked the organisers to co-operate while he would talk to the persons concerned in this regard.

Half-an-hour passed and the processionists appeared a bit lax. SP Srinivasan, sitting in his car, observed the scenario and called the Circle Inspector who was on duty. He whispered something into his ears and lo and behold, the Circle Inspector went near the cart carrying the deity and mercilessly beat up the bullocks which then started running very fast with the cart leaving the processionists behind.

The musicians and others followed, without playing the music. The runaway cart by then had already passed the mosque. This was told to me by K.R. Srinivasan himself personally while we were having happy hours.

District Minister inspects ongoing development works in city

Mysuru, May 29 (MTY&DM)- Amidst complaints about the unsatisfactory progress of development works being taken up in and around the city, PWD and District in-Charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa today went on a inspection spree, visiting the sites of ongoing works.

Dr. Mahadevappa first visited the site on KRS road in Metagalli, where the 350-beds Mysuru unit of Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences and Research Centre is coming up.

The project works taken up at a cost of Rs. 115 crore began on Sept. 1, 2014 with completion time stipulated at 24 months. But the Government later extended the deadline by 16 months, according to which the construction works should be completed by Dec. 2017.

Dismissing BJP's charges that Chief Minister Siddharamaiah had done little for his home district, Dr. Mahadevappa said Siddharamaiah had sanctioned developmental projects totally worth Rs. 2,000 crore to Mysuru district since becoming the CM four years ago. Pointing out that the ongoing development works in the city was totally worth Rs. 550 crore, the Minister challenged the BJP leaders to take part in a debate on the CM's contributions to Mysuru District.

Reply to a query raised by the members of the Mysore Race Club (MRC) regarding the tote tax of 28 pc, he said that if one goes through the GST properly then most of the issues raised like extra tax will also be imposed on assets and properties which would become a burden for MRC has also been addressed, he said.

One person who had raised on question on jerkin export, was told that the tax would be refunded in 90 days. The hoteliers demand of reducing the tax from 12 pc to 5 percent was also rejected.

Earlier, Ritvik Pandey, Commissioner of Commercial Taxes, Karnataka, in his inaugural address said that GST will be implemented in one month and no one need panic if everyone files the tax return promptly. The migration from State to Central taxes is already happening and this is the need of the hour.

Central Excise Deputy Commissioner Ravichandra explained in detail about the GST through power point presentation how the single tax system will replace the existing multiple tax one. In the new GST, the input tax credit, e-way bill, valuation in GST, assessment and audit, will all be addressed and taxes can be paid through credit and debit cards online.

A classical treat...

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

Vidwan S. Shankar is a fine vocalist who has carved a unique place in the field of Karnatak classical music. Known for his quest for classicism and reverence towards the great Vaggeyakaras, Shankar elevates his listeners to a higher level with his vast repertoire. The clear diction unfurls in a majestic style in his rich voice. He treated the rasikas of Mysuru with a fine concert at Veene Seshanna Bhavan (10.5.2017) under the aegis of Ganabharathi. Accompanied by N. Karthik (violin), Tumkur Ravishankar (mridanga) and Manjunath (ghata), he presented the compositions of Mysore Vasudevacharya, Muthuswamy Dixitar and Tyagaraja mainly.

After the opening varna, 'Sarasuda' (saveri), he paid obeisance to Lord Ganapathi in 'Lambodaramavalambe,' with a brief sketch of Raga Kambodhi. A neraval at 'Surabhoosurasamsevitha' had a frill of brisk kalpana swaras. The opening phrase of the next alapa itself registered the forthcoming raga — Abheri. A neat presentation with no gimmicks was filled with raga bhava. The subtle nuances of abheri were well touched by both Shankar and Karthik.

Vasudevacharya's 'Bhajare re maanasa' was a welcome. Tyagaraja's popular kriti 'Nee dayarada' (Vasanthabhairavi)paved way to a good delineation of Reethigowla. His musical ideas came alive in this vakra raga. A devotee's request to Lord not to leave his proximity has been filled in Tyagaraja's 'Nannuvidachikadalakura.' Shankar did full justice to the composition with good diction and bhava.

His deep commitment to classicism was notable in the detailed presentation of

Raga Shanmukhapriya. It was innovative and fresh with a stamp of Shankar's style. A perfect prelude to Patnam Subramanyalyer's 'Mariveredikkevarayya.'

The kriti with the right pace and appropriate gamakashadan impromptu improvisation at 'Sannutangashri Venkateshaneeku' followed by an attractive cascade of kalpana swaras.

Tumkur Ravishankar and S. Manjunath gave a fine rhythmic support throughout the concert. Shankar chose yet another raga to enthral the listeners. Mohana was embellished with alluring melodic phrases that was very pleasing. Karthik's rendering too was impressive which he executed with fluidity to bring the raga bhava. Tyagaraja's 'Nannupalimpanadachiti' was followed by interesting kalpana swaras. Shankar also sang Dixitar's evergreen 'Rangapuravihara.' The tail pieces included an Ugabhoga, Devaranamaof Sripadarajaand a 'Rangageethe'.

Sri Krishna Sangeetha Sabha: 'Nrutya Vaibhava' by three senior disciples of Dr. Vasundhara Doraswamy was held at Alwar Kala Bhavan (14.5.2017) by Sri Krishna Gana Sabha. Tanusri, Padmasri and Deepti performed with ease to the recorded music, in the absence of their Guru.

These three young dancers have gained stage experience by performing with their Guru on many occasions. They looked fresh and beautiful, eager to mingle and meld with each other to present a unifying picture. All the items were shared by all three of them.

The opening 'Melaprapthi,' followed by Shivastuti displayed their confidant dancing. 'Krishna kautvam' in the raga Mohana, composed by Dwaraki Krishnaswami, had 'Kalingamardana' in the sanchari. Mysore Vasudevacharya's popular keerthana 'Brochevarevarura' (Khamach) brought alive the story of Gajendra Moksha in 'Aaturamugakarirajuni'. 'Aadidanaadidan' was a Padam in the raga Vasantha, taken from the work of Harihara, a Kannada poet. Dr. Vasundhara has tapped Kannada literature and adopted works of a number of ancient Kannada poet's for dance. This number displayed the gait of peacock, elephant, deer and serpent.

A Devaranama by Sripadaraja 'Taamtaamtaamendu' in ragamalike showcased dashavatara. Their quickness in this regard was laudable. After another Devaranama 'Bhagyada Lakshmi baramma' by Purandaradasa, they concluded the program with a thillana by Swathi Tirunal in the raga Dhanasri. Good abhinaya and foot work by the girls enabled them to present an attractive program. The CD had Dr. Vasundhara on natuvanga, P. Rama (vocal), P. Janardhana Rao (mridanga), S.V. Balakrishna (morcing), Anup (violin) and Jayaram (flute).

FRENCH OPEN 2017

Makarova shock for Kerber

Paris, May 29- Germany's Angelique Kerber became the first women's top seed to lose in the opening round of the French Open. Kerber went down to Ekaterina Makarova (Russia) 6-2, 6-2 in one hour and 22 minutes. Both Simona Halep and Karolina Pliskova have the chance to take top spot for the first time with good runs in Paris. However, Halep is recovering from injury and Pliskova fell in the first round last year.

That is symptomatic of the uncertainty in the women's draw that led Halep to claim up to 15 players are in with a chance of winning the title. Kerber, a first-round loser last year as well, barely figured among the favourites on the eve of the tournament.

Meanwhile, American Venus Williams beat China's Wang Qiang 6-4 7-6 (7-3) on the 20th anniversary of her debut at Roland Garros.

The 10th seed hit 44 unforced errors in an untidy display but goes on to face Japan's 90th-ranked Kurumi Nara.

Sebastian wins Monaco Grand Prix

Monaco, May 29 - Sebastian Vettel secured a memorable one-two for Ferrari in yesterday's Monaco Grand Prix to extend his world championship lead to a luxurious 25 points over Lewis Hamilton.

Taking full advantage of generous support from his team-mate Kimi Raikkonen, who led from pole position to the start of the pit-stops, the four-time champion came home 3.1 seconds clear of the Finn.

Carlos Sainz was a well-judged sixth for Toro Rosso ahead of Hamilton, who had started 13th, and Frenchman Romain Grosjean of Haas. Felipe Massa was ninth for Williams ahead of Dane Kevin Magnussen in the second Haas.

Jenson Button, back for one race to replace two-time champion Fernando Alonso, who was due to race at the Indianapolis 500 later Sunday, retired his McLaren after a collision with German Pascal Wehrlein's Sauber. The crash left Wehrlein's car on its side at Portier, but he was unhurt.

WORD OF THE DAY

Concatenate

Pronunciation: kahn-KAT-uh-nayt

Meaning: To link together in a series or chain.

Origin: Concatenate comes directly from Latin concatenare, which in turn is formed from con-, meaning "with" or "together," and catena, meaning "chain." (The word chain itself also evolved from catena.) Concatenate has a somewhat longer history as an adjective, meaning "linked together," than as a verb. The adjective first appeared in English in the 15th century and the verb wasn't in use until more than a century later. Catenate, a verb in its own right meaning "to link in a series," had also arrived on the scene by the early 17th century.

THE ODD WORD

Fane

Temple.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

No holds barred

Meaning: Without restrictions or rules.

Origin: The holds here are wrestling holds and that's where the phrase originates. Wrestling has long been an Olympic sport, administrated by FILA, the sport's governing body. There are sets of rules for each of the various styles of wrestling. Prior to the formation of rules, wrestling was a free-form affair. There was no need to mention any such phrase as no holds barred, as that was taken for granted. It wasn't until after the sport became regulated that bouts where those rules didn't apply were billed as such.

The earliest reference to no holds barred is from Manitoba Daily Free Press, February 1892:

"Wm. Gibbs, the Kansas man, and Dennis Gallacher, of Buffalo, engaged in a wrestling match at the opera house here tonight. Gibbs was strangled into insensibility and may die. The conditions of the match were best two in three falls Greco-Roman style; no holds barred."

Forms of contemporary no holds barred wrestling in which rules are thrown out the window are Hardcore Wrestling and Cage Fighting.

Hulk Hogan starred in a 1989 film based on free-form wrestling - 'No Holds Barred'. Its tagline was "No Ring. No Ref. No Rules."
